HUNDREDS

Are Being Cured by Paw-Paw in This City, and Every Mail Brings Letters From Them, a Few of Which Are Here Presented.

This has been a grandly resultful week in Philadelphia, and my crusade for health with Paw-Paw has been pregnant with good results. Paw-Paw is entrenching itself firmly in the homes of the people and proving its inestimable worth by curing Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Insomnia and many other ills that follow in their train. I note, too, with deepest gratitude that vic-tims of the cup, those who have found how treacherous alcoholic drinks are, are now substituting Paw-Paw for strong drink and are immeasurably better for it. The stimulation and false strength that come from the use of alcohol is more fatal in results than the weakness it is designed to cure. Paw-Paw gives all the stimulation necessary, and at the same time gives the stomach and nerves a permanently healthy tone. MUNYON. healthy tone.

There has been a great inpouring of new recruits all this week. A few are selected who tell in the strongest and most unmistakable terms that Paw-Paw has cured them of Dyspepsia and other forms of stomach and nerve trouble. Read them and then resolve that you will be a sufferer no longer:

Cured Severe Case of Dyspepsia "Your Paw-Paw has been a great helper to me both as a digestive agent and nerve acdative. Its effect on the nervous system is wonderful, and I feel braced up amazingly after taking it. I sleep well and eat heartly."

Guests of East St. Louis Exchange at Second Annual Trolley Outing.

BANQUET AT EDWARDSVILLE.

Mayor Kern and Commercial Club Receive Guests at Belleville-Stop Made at Collinsville.

The East St. Louis Real Estate Exchange enjoyed its second annual trolley outing and banquet yesterday afternoon and had as its guests members of the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange. The St. Louis guests were met at Third street and Washington avenue, St. Louis, by a delegation of East St. Louisans and escorted to East St. Louis, where they met the East St. Louis real estate men. Half a dozen East St. Louis cars were then boarded and accompanied by two brass bands, the party toured East St. Louis.

Along the route the building operations attracted the attention of the St. Louisens and formed the chief topic of conversation. East St. Louisans were congratulated on their rise from the disastrous flood of a few months ago.

After the tour of East St. Louis the party boarded the special cars, "The Bluffs" and "The Mounds," of the East St. Louis and Suburban line, and proceeded to Belleville, where the first stop was made. Mayor Kern and the City Council and members of the Commercial Club received the party. After an hour in Belleville the party resumed its trip, making the next stop at Collinsville. There they were met by prominent citizens of the town and after several addresses the journey to Edwardsville was resumed.

Fourteenth Annual Meeting Recognizes the Necessity of Centraliantion of Different Homes.

Speakers at the fourteenth annual gathering of the friends of the Bethesda institutions, yesterday afternoon at No. 3651 Vista avenue, emphasized the neces sity of having the four departments of the work situated near each other.

The Hospital and Home for Incurables and the Home for Foundlings occupy buildings which the Bethesda Board owns on Vista avenue. The Home for Aged People is in rented property at No. 3120 Lafayette avenue, and the Materalty Home is at Gratian and Hickory streets. The board owns the building occupied by the latter institution.

It is thought that if all the institutions can be grouped, affairs can be more easily administered, and a certain amount of ex-

A friend of Bethesda has already purchased a site on Vista avenue for the proposed new Home for Old People. It has been the policy of the board to solicit no contributions and none will be asked for this purpose, although officials are anxious that the work be speedily carried to completion.

Mrs. Roger Hayne, directress and treasurer of Bethesda, who has been most prominently identified with the enterprise during the fourteen years of its existence, in her report yesterday stated that the total expenditure for the year was $19,343. The present number of persons in the four institutions is 276, and during the year 862 have been cared for and aided.

Two hundred and three bables were cared for in the Foundling Home during the year. Of this number fifty-seven were adopted, forty-seven were reclaimed by friends, forty-nine died and the others re-

The other departments of the work were crowded each week of the entire twelve months, and attention and shelter were given to more than in any other corresponding length of time.

The Reverend Doctor M. Rhodes delivered an address on "The Reformation" and the Reverend Doctor Gregg spoke on "Fellowship." More than 200 persons were present. The Brooks Memorial Chapel, where the exercises took place, were decorated. There will be no change in the directors the medical staff, the superintendents or the officers during the next year. The officers are Mrs. Roger Hayne, directress and treasurer; E. W. Saunders, president; Judge S. P. Spencer, secretary, and the Reverend Doctor S. C. Palmer, chaplain. The superintendents of the various in-stitutions are: Home for the Aged, Miss Parsons; Foundlings' Home, Miss Lydia Townsend; Maternity Home, Miss Jose phine Brumfield, and Hospital and Incur ables' Home, Miss Carrie Schoenherr.

between the barbed wires of a fence.

The eagle was nearly exhausted apparently from futile efforts to extricate its wings. Slaven secured a long dogenain to one of the bird's legs and with it brought the eagle into the town of Blacks and presented it to a hotelkeper.

Pending the construction of a suitable house for the bird at the back of the hotel the eagle was staked to the end of a board driven into the ground.

While everybody in the neighborhood was assisting in the construction of the eagle cage and when the structure was nearly completed the eagle managed to pull up the stake and with it dangling from the chain scared off to the distant mountains.

The eagle measured 74 feet from its angle cage in the space measured off to the distant mountains. mountains.

YOUTH HAS MANIA FOR GASOLINE FUMES.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Toledo, O., Oct. 31.—A boy afflicted with the strangest mania on record and one that is both attracting attention and puzzling medical science has arrived in Toledo, to become a special inmate of the Toledo State Hospital.

to have been found by the parents about the house.

The strange mania of the lad is attracting wide attention, and medical science is unable as yet to account for it. Through the kindly offices of L. C. Cole of Bowling Green, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Toledo State Hospital, who has become interested in the boy's case, the lad will be brought here and placed in the special care of Doctor H. A. Tobey, who will study the lad's actions and make a record of the case day by day.

Doctor Tobey said that the case of young Thayer was in many particulars the strangest mania that had ever come under his notice. He said that the Toledo State Hospital was not exactly the proper place for the boy, who should be sent to the Gai-lipolis Institution, but that through the instrumentality of Mr. Cole he had become personally interested in the case and would take personal charge of the boy, in the hope of curing him of the mania as well as for making a study of his case for the benefit of science.

SINGER GOES TO NEW YORK FOR ORATORIO ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Louise A. Corley Gives Up Local Choir Work After Completing Course in Europe.

Mrs. Louise A. Corley, after spending the ummer in St. Louis visiting Mrs. Ber Stomberg of Delmar boulevard and other friends, departed yesterday for New York City, which will be her future home. She has refused stage and operatic offers, preferring to devote her talents to high-class concert and oratorio work under the management of Henry Wolfsohn.

Two and a half years ago Mrs. Corley resigned her position with the choirs of the Lindell Avenue Methodist Church and the Jewish Temple for the purpose of enriching her repertoire with the artists in the music centers of Europe, and although contemplating a series of courses, which would aggregate only twelve months, she became so interested in her studies in beinging famous oratorios, numbers and arias in the original tongue, that the various masters persuaded her to double her course with them, and sing at various concerts, interpreting for the public many of the newest productions by special arrangements with the composers. She remained twenty-four months instead of twelve.

Mrs. Corley is a native of St. Louis and has been prominent in music circles since her girthood. She has been identified with the highest-class church choirs since her eighteenth birthday, when she entered the choir of the First Presbyterian Church of this city. She is graceful in her style and platform appearance. Her voice is a pure the Jewish Temple for the purpose of en-

You're usually in a hurry when you buy rubbers; you wait until you have to, and then take whatever is offered. It's a foolish way to buy anything, and it's the usual way of buying rubbers.

Probably it never occurred to you that there was a difference in rubbers; one sort better than another; if it did, you couldn't tell the difference.

That's all changed now. Selz Royal Blue Rubbers are better-thanusual, the best, we think, ever made. They cost the same as usual, plus the trouble of saying "Selz Rubbers," Say it to your shoe man; and if you don't get Selz Rubbers send to us.
